Murray-Kilgore Bill Appears Lost In Senate

Barkley Seeking To Force Vote But Murray Plans Extended Fight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—The Murray-Kilgore demobilization bill, with its $35 a week top unemployment benefits, appeared beaten in the senate today as its sponsors sought to reach President Roosevelt.

The senate instead was reported in polls conducted for its leaders to heavily favor passage of the George conversion plan together with a bill guaranteeing solvency of state unemployment compensation systems.

"The Murray-Kilgore bill will be defeated," said Kenneth Wherry, Nebraska, Republican whip. "There are at least 43 votes against it with many senators absent."

Backers of the measure, which has been attacked as paying the way for a general reorganization of industry and labor in the postwar era, were hopeful that Mr. Roosevelt will demand passage of the measure, and thus overcome the disadvantage they now face.

Confusion Admitted

Meantime, Democratic Senate Leader Alben Barkley, Kentucky, said neither the views of President Roosevelt nor War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes were known. Barkley added that they might be as confused by the intricate features of the demobilization legislation as are senators.

Sen. James E. Murray (D) Mont., co-author of the Murray-Kilgore bill, spurned suggestions for a compromise. Some other backers of the measure were reported to be seeking to compromise on a $25 top unemployment compensation, but were making little headway.

"I am opposed to any compromise," said Murray. "I look at this bill not as relief for anyone but

CHILDREN ON GUAM WAVE HOME-MADE OLD GLORIES

THESE cute natives of Guam hold a pair of home-made American flags made by their mothers from parts of dresses while in the captivity of the Japanese. When Americans started bombing the island, preliminary to the landing assault, these patch-work flags were waved at the pilots. One of the roughly sewn flags had nine stripes and 12 stars, the other 44 stars and seven stripes.

37,551 JAPS DIE IN MARIANAS

Losses Of Enemy In Sharp Contrast To 5,171 U. S. Fighters Killed

PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 11—The reconquest of Guam was highlighted today by announcement that 37,551 Japanese have been killed on the three islands of the Marianas chain wrested from Japan.

Enemy losses on Saipan, Tinian, and Guam which fell before overpowering American forces stood out in sharp contrast to American casualties which were officially listed as 25,539, including 5,171 killed or missing.

The Pacific fleet headquarters communique revealing tabulated casualties was issued only a few hours after the complete conquest of Guam was disclosed to have been achieved August 9, bringing to a close a bitter, but comparatively fast campaign.

Recapture of the American naval base in the Marianas, it was revealed, cost United States Marines and Army infantry forces 1,214 killed, 5,704 wounded and 329 missing.

Enemy dead on Guam actually counted totalled 10,971, but large numbers still remain to be tabulated and others were still falling as Americans continued mopping-up operations against remnants of the Japanese garrison on the northeastern corner of the island. The enemy death toll probably never will be accurately determined.

HUN CONTROLLED RADIO ADMITS PARIS DANGER

LONDON, Aug. 11—A commentator of the German-controlled Paris radio, Robert De Beaulieu, warned today that the Allied drive was nearing Paris and that the capital may be captured.

"The war is getting nearer to Paris," he said.

"The Allies are sweeping forward toward the capital and they may capture it."

"It cannot be denied that the fall of the city would be a tremendous event, but it would not mean that the war was over."

"Fighting would continue and every inch of ground would still be bitterly contested."

"For the Allies Paris presents mainly strategic advantages."

THEFT OF RING DENIED; DIAMOND FOUND IN TUMMY

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Alphonse Sauri, 19, awaited trial today on grand larceny charges after, police say, science made him literally cough up a $300 diamond and platinum ring which he had vociferously denied stealing.

A woman who had befriended Sauri called police to her home when the ring disappeared while Sauri was present. She recalled that he had had difficulty in swallowing a drink of water.

A fluoroscope revealed the ring nestled in Sauri's tummy, according to the police charge, and the bauble was later recovered with surgical instruments. He is due to explain in court Tuesday how the ring happened to get inside him.

PARENTS CLING TO HOPE FOR DYING CHILDREN

By International News Service
Two Ohio four-year-olds, suffering from rare blood diseases believed incurable, continued at their play in blissful ignorance today, wondering why, perhaps, their easily-tiring efforts brought tears to their parents' eyes.

In Cincinnati blonde little Judy Berling, who can't understand why her gums bleed so often, is suffering from acute myelogenous leukemia. Despite four blood transfusions in the last six weeks, doctors give her only a few more weeks to live.

In Springfield Jackie Krumholz, suffering from acute lymphatic leukemia, may have his fate determined in the next few days. A shipment of plasma, made from blood donated by Mrs. William McMullin of Philadelphia who recovered from the disease, is enroute to Springfield hospital. If it aids the boy's condition—five ordinary blood transfusions have failed to do so—Mrs. McMullin may come to Springfield to donate more of her golden blood. If it doesn't, then Jackie, too, will die.

The ray of hope held out for Jackie kindled a similar spark of faith in Judy's parents.

"Perhaps there is someone, somewhere, who has recovered from the disease Judy has," said Louella Berling, the mother who refuses to despair. "If so, we would give anything to hear from them. We just can't give up."

Judy's illness developed after an attack of 10-day measles last November. Jackie fell victim after suffering an attack of poison ivy about two months ago.

98 Temperature Scored Thursday, Friday Takes 10 Degree Start

Temperatures were still climbing and water supplies receding Friday as the drought and warm weather continued.

The local temperature Thursday soared to the second highest day of the summer, a 98 degree high being recorded by Weather Observer Roy Hawkes. The thermometer dropped to 73 during the night but the humidity kept restless sleepers from enjoying much rest. Temperature at 7 a. m. Friday was 10 degrees higher than at the same time Thursday.

Scoto river had dropped to 1.69 feet Friday and late crops were burning up.

The drought has placed new burdens on orchardists of this area. At least two growers of peaches were supplying water to their trees in an effort to save the promised big crop. Lee Shaner, whose orchard is south of Circleville on Route 23, has been making daily trips to the city to get water which is poured in shallow trenches around the trees. Orchards north of the city also were reported receiving the artificial shower treatment.

Scattered showers, predicted the last few days, have failed to appear. Friday's forecast of "warm" (Continued on Page Two)

BODIES OF 66 MINERS MAY BE REACHED TODAY

BELLAIRE, O., Aug. 11—The bodies of 66 miners entombed in the Powhatan mine by a fire July 5 may be uncovered late today or tomorrow.

Because crews, digging a new 1,400-foot shaft to reach the bodies by removing a record 600 tons of coal a day, have progressed 1,175 feet as they work at feverish speed 24 hours a day.

The shaft has pierced the earth at about 100 feet each 24 hours, while 45 feet is considered good for a single day's cutting.

A morgue has been set up at the shaft's mouth to receive the victims pending identification. Mine officials said it might take a month to find and remove all the bodies.

U. S. MAY STOP BUYING MEAT OF ARGENTINA

Project Being Explored Would Reduce Local Supply 15 Percent

PROPOSED AS SANCTION

Rude Shock Looming For South American Nation If America Acts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—It was officially acknowledged today that the United States government is "exploring" a project for stopping meat purchases from Argentina which would result in a new 15 percent reduction of meat supplies in the United States.

The action would be taken as an economic sanction against Argentina for its Fascist-like activities which, according to Secretary of State Hull, threaten the security of the Western Hemisphere.

Hull's denunciation of Argentina was made in a formal statement July 24. At that time, when asked if sanctions were being considered, a high official said, "we haven't come to that yet."

No Decision Reached

Today's disclosure does not mean that a decision has been reached to cut off meat supplies from the Argentine, which is moving tremendous quantities to Great Britain and to American armed forces overseas, but it does mean that the effect of such a measure is being weighed. An official of the Office of Price Administration said: "We have had the problem proposed to us."

The effect of cutting of meat shipments would be a rude shock to Argentine economy. The value of Argentine meat exports last year was 176 million dollars. It would also mean a sacrifice by the United Nations which consume all Argentina's meat exports. The figure last year was 658,000 long tons, or one billion, 474 million pounds.

Britain Heavy Buyer

Under present arrangements, the British ministry of foods buys the entire meat export from Argentina, and allocates a large part of this meat to American forces in the European theatre.

Though the British government officially is on record as supporting the U. S. position against Argentina, privately the British are opposed to cutting off imports of Argentine beef which is traditionally a basic food for the British Isles.

ROY A. HOLCOMB SERIOUSLY HURT FIGHTING HUNS

Private Roy A. Holcomb was seriously injured July 17 in action in France according to a telegram received early this week in Circleville. Mrs. Holcomb, the former Alma Hixenbaugh, a patient in Berger hospital where she gave birth to a baby daughter last Saturday, was not informed of the news until Thursday night, when it was told to her by Dr. V. D. Kerns, her physician.

The telegram mentioned that a letter containing his address would follow.

Mrs. Holcomb and two small sons, two and three years old, have been living in Circleville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hixenbaugh, East Corwin street, since her husband was sent overseas early this Spring. He was inducted in November, 1943. The Holcomb family had been living in Columbus.

Private Holcomb is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. McClelland Clark, of East Mill street.

Turner Sets Quarters On Saipan, Says Yanks Have Japanese Number

ABOARD VICE ADMIRAL TURNER'S FLAGSHIP, THE MARIANAS, Aug. 11—(Via Navy Radio)—Vice-Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner today announced the establishment of the headquarters of his amphibious force of the Pacific fleet on Saipan island—an advance of more than three thousand miles from Pearl Harbor—and said it will be maintained there until "I can move further forward."

Turner disclosed that headquarters are under construction for both his force and the commander of the Pacific amphibious troops, bringing the tactical direction of the trans-Pacific offensive less than 1,500 miles from Japan.

The admiral's announcement followed the completion of the conquest of Guam, a victory which erased two years of sorrow from his heart. He was in the war plans office in Washington at the time Guam fell.

Hailing the final capture of the Marianas, Admiral Turner sent a message of congratulations to Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, commander of the Fifth Fleet, terming it "the greatest naval victory the United States ever won."

Victorious Battler

Admiral Turner commanded the amphibious forces which captured the Gilberts, Marshalls and now the Marianas. He took Marines into Guadalcanal, our first Pacific offensive—and now he is ready to sail westward again.

"We've got these b——s' number," he said, "and we know how to do it. General MacArthur knows how, the Navy knows how, the soldiers know how and the air forces know how. We're going to walk down the Ginza before too long because we've got their number."

The establishment of headquarters for Admiral Turner's amphibious force and for the commander of Pacific amphibious troops on Saipan, puts the American springboard closer to Japan than Miami is to Boston.

From the standpoint of Japanese security and Japanese terror, the situation is reversed to what our own people would be if the Hawaiian islands, only 2,000 miles off San Francisco, were under Japanese control.

Praises Spruance

Speaking for all amphibious forces, Admiral Turner offered Admiral Spruance cheers for the splendid leadership in the Marianas fight and expressed the hope of being associated with him in future victories.

Admiral Turner highly praised Gen. Holland Smith for his direction of the ground campaign, declaring "he not only has my confidence, but also the confidence of every Navy officer and probably every Army officer because he knows how to do his job."

Citing the near-perfect cooperation and coordination of all forces involved in the capture of the Marianas, Admiral Turner smiled and said, "We've come a long way in two years' time both from the standpoint of cooperation and distance."

Admiral Turner met and chatted with Lieut.-Gen. Alexander Vandegrift at the Saipan airport and the Admiral and Marine commandant recalled their joint operation begun at Guadalcanal almost two years ago.

Temporary Quarters

He also disclosed that with the completion of the mission of the amphibious forces, Vice-Admiral John H. Hoover assumes command of the Marianas, as part of his forward area command. Admiral Hoover is now here at Saipan to accept command.

He was asked, "will Saipan be your permanent headquarters, admiral?"

Turner replied, "Hell, no! It's very temporary headquarters, functioning only until I can move farther west or northwest!"

Brest Siege Intensified As Second U. S. Column Joins In Assault

BRITISH FORCES GAIN

Japs Jittery After Raids By Super-Forts—Russ Bleed Nazis White

By International News Service
The battle for France roared forward today, with U. S. Army spearheads reported unofficially at Chartres, only 43 miles from the French capital.

At the same time the American siege of Brest, No. 1 port and naval base at the western tip of Brittany destined to become a major disembarkation port for the final onslaughts against Germany, was intensified as a second Yank column, moving up the northern coastal road, joined other American assault forces already before the city.

An official spokesman at Allied headquarters said there was no official confirmation as yet of reports that the American drive toward Paris had reached Chartres but that the Yanks undoubtedly were rolling along the road to Paris which leads through Chartres.

Head For Tours

Other American columns pushing eastward from occupied Le Mans meantime were reported to have swung southeast toward Tours and a radio correspondent in the field sent back word that a U. S. unit during the night attacked Chateaudun, directly east of Le Mans. The headquarters spokesman explained that the Paris-bound American columns pushing east from Le Mans were assumed to be sending spearheads out in all directions, exploring all roads east, northeast and southeast.

British and Canadian troops south and east of Caen, pressing the northern prong of the Anglo-American push toward Paris, encountered increased German resistance, notably in the area of Falaise, but nevertheless advanced at several points.

Yanks Attack

In the Mortain area, where the Germans several days ago made a desperate effort to cut the American corridor between Normandy and Brittany, the Yanks attacked German positions in every sector against continued stubborn Nazi opposition along a line stretching from Mortain to Vire. North of Mortain, the Americans seized control of Gathemo.

HERO'S BUDDIES SEND PURSE TO YOUNG WIDOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—A young mother in suburban Douglaston has proof today of the camaraderie among American fighting men in the form of a check for $2,352 contributed by officers and men of an aircraft carrier.

The gift, sent to Mrs. June Nicholas Bridges, 22, mother of a six-months-old boy, was the crew's tribute to her husband, Alfred, 23. Bridges, a gunner's mate, first class, was killed June 19 while helping to fight off an enemy dive-bomber attack—he was the only casualty.

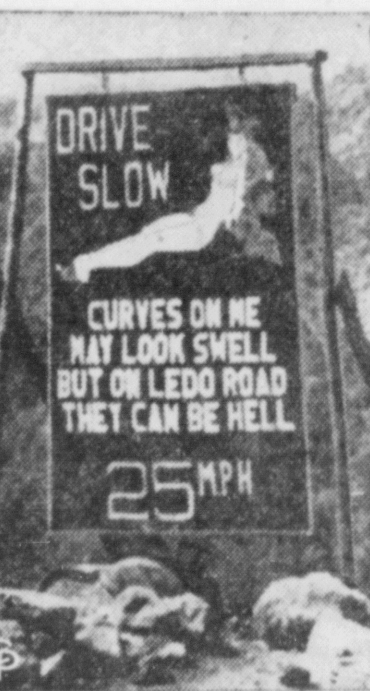

A letter accompanying the gift said: "We know no words or deeds of ours could in any way repay you and your son for the loss of your husband and his daddy... his many friends have collected the enclosed contribution as a token of high regard for him."

Mrs. Bridges said the check would start an education fund for little Alfred, Jr.

U. S. AIR CHIEF AT LOCKBOURNE

Gen. H. H. Arnold Inspects Great Fortress Field North Of City

Lockbourne Army airbase officials Friday had been told they "have a very fine base" by no less an authority than Gen. H. H. "Hap" Arnold, commander-in-chief of the Army Air Forces.

The nearby base had its first visit from a four-star general Thursday when the "big boss" of the air forces spent an hour and a half inspecting one of the largest Flying Fortress bases in the country.

Base officials were expecting an important visitor but they didn't know who was coming until Gen. Arnold arrived in a B-25 Mitchell medium bomber. He was greeted by Col. John S. Gullet, Lockbourne base commander; Col. Audrin R. Walker, deputy for training and operations, and other members of Gen. Gullet's staff. Accompanying Gen. Arnold were Maj. Gen. D. N. Grant, air surgeon general, and Col. C. A. Peterson, his personal pilot.

Gen. Arnold, highest ranking officer of the Army to visit Lockbourne since the base was activated more than two years ago, inspected the mess halls, ground school, post exchange and Link trainer building.

INVENTS WAY TO KILL BUGS, BUT HOUSE GOES TOO

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 11—His home-made insecticide perhaps had certain effective qualities, but Martin Oberle, 50, of Hammond, was not recommending it today for general public use.

Oberle, pestered by mosquitoes and other insects, compounded a spray of gasoline and carbolic acid and was spraying it liberally around the house when—boom!—there was an explosion. Then there was a fire.

The mosquitoes were eliminated, all right, but the house burned down, too, and Oberle and his housekeeper were burned a bit in the bargain.

Mosquitos dropped blockbusters on Berlin. After daylight, the German domestic air raid warning system reported an Allied bomber formation over southwestern Germany.

Today's communique from Allied headquarters in Rome disclosed that Polish and Italian troops, in a combined attack, have pushed the Germans from high ground between the Misa and Cesano rivers on the Adriatic flank of the Italian front and have captured three towns. The situation at Florence remains unchanged, the communique said. Bad weather restricted tactical air force activity in Italy, but objectives in northern Italy were attacked and bombers again assaulted the Ploesti oil region of Romania and targets in Yugoslavia.

Red Army columns on the eastern front continued to bleed white the hastily reinforced German armies seeking to save East Prussia from invasion. Soviet forces had scored a notable gain in capturing the road junction of Raseiniai, in Lithuania, 53 miles northwest of the vital East Prussia railroad city of Tilsit. A renewed Russian offensive in Poland east of Warsaw threatened to cut German communications between the Polish capital and Krakow, last major Nazi bastion before German Silesia.

In Japan the imperial high command admitted today that "some damages" had been caused in the United States Superfortress bomber raid on the industrial city of Nagasaki and at the same time Nippon's bomb frightened new cabinet, jittery over the increasing assaults against home islands, decided to prepare a plan for "strengthening home defense."

The admission of damage inflicted by the huge American craft in the raid which hit the Nagasaki area about 1 a. m. Jap time was contained in an official communique reported by the Domei agency and recorded by the FCC.

Radio Tokyo broadcast the decision of the cabinet to strengthen defenses after studying reports on the B-29 raid, the FCC said.

Domei admitted that "several thousand incendiary bombs" had been dropped and that "fires started at two points in a certain city."

Domei claimed the raiders were "frantically confused" and "on the run" in the face of interceptor attacks and anti-aircraft fire.

The Jap agency claimed that the raiders failed to reach the most important industrial areas.

War Minister Marshal Gen. Sugiyama and Home Affairs Minister Shigeo Odachi submitted details of the Nagasaki assault to their colleagues in the cabinet of Premier Kuniaki Koiso.

A defense plan paralleling the national movement for total armament was proposed to be made up by August 15.

The broadcast announcement of the home defense plans came two hours after the Jap Domei Agency asserted that the bombing of Nagasaki on Kyushu island had been "carried out purely for propaganda purposes."

"The damage caused by the enemy attacks are not even worth mentioning," Domei claimed.

Not until some time later did the Japs acknowledge that Palembang, on the island of Sumatra, had been hit by another wing of the U. S. 20th air force.

"Just one oil tank was set afire," Domei asserted.

Defends Bill

"I cannot think of anything more beneficial for the Democratic party in this election than for this bill to be defeated by Republicans. So far as I am concerned we'll put the Republicans on the spot and go to the country on the issue."

While Barkley sought to force a vote today or tomorrow, Murray indicated the fight will be carried on into next week. He said some absent senators will return over the week end. Backers of the bill may postpone a vote until Mr. Roosevelt returns to the city.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R) Mich., raised an issue which may affect unemployment income. He said state unemployment compensation laws have a provision that unemployment benefits would be cancelled if the recipient accepted other relief, state or federal. Passage of the Murray-Kilgore bill thus might be ineffectual, he said.

The claim was answered by Sen. Harley Kilgore (D) W. Va., who asserted the Social Security Board's position is that the additional federal unemployment benefit's would not constitute relief. Ferguson insisted, however, that state interpretation would rule.

Wherry, whose protests resulted in "experts" of the military affairs subcommittee remaining off the floor during debate yesterday, said he would carry on a campaign against "borrowing" of men from New Deal agencies for use of senate investigating committees.

Wherry said he discovered there are 21 or 22 people who draw travel expenses and subsistence from the senate, but are not on its payroll. These persons, he said, presumably are government employees loaned to the senate.

TROOPS REMOVED FROM CARS IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11—The Army today removed its troops from units of the Philadelphia Transportation Company while a federal grand jury probed for the "real reason" behind the six-day transit strike which paralyzed movements in the city.

An Army spokesman said that "all guards on buses, trolleys, subway and elevated trains were removed beginning 4:52 a. m." He added that "the vehicles will operate without guards in the future except at night. Guards will be assigned to each vehicle from 8 p. m. until morning."

RUTH ATHEY TO TAKE OVER NEW POST TUESDAY

Mrs. Ruth Hummel Athey will assume her position as executive secretary of the Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health association Tuesday, having been selected by unanimous vote of the executive board to succeed Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, who resigned recently.

Miss Dunlap was a volunteer worker under Mrs. E. Folliott, Williamsport, until she was made secretary in 1937. She has served as head of all township chairmen, and supervised and actively assisted in most of the work in Circleville.

Miss Dunlap was a volunteer state meetings and twice was a representative to national meetings at Cleveland and at Philadelphia, Pa.

Her books have been audited by Durward Dowden and were found to be in fine condition. The association funds have been kept in The First National Bank.

Miss Dunlap resigned her position because of a war appointment in the quartermaster's office at the Lockbourne Army Air Base.

Vast expanses of the United States baked and blistered today under a blazing sun and in temperatures that in many instances shot above the 100-degree mark. The blanket of sizzling heat over the Midwest and Southwest areas was a continuation of the abnormal temperatures of the last several days.

Drought conditions became more serious in many areas, threatening damage to field corn and other farm crops.

The hottest spot in the United States yesterday was at Blythe, in southeastern California near the Arizona line, where the mercury climbed upward steadily until it hit 107.

Chicago perspired under its hottest August 10 in history, with the thermometer reaching 99 degrees at 5:45 p. m. This beat the high record for that date set 57 years previously, 97.7 degrees in 1887. It might hit 100 today, the weatherman said.

Detroit also broke its August 10 record with a 98, with continued high temperatures forecast for today and "a little cooler tomorrow."

Wichita Falls, Tex., and Waynoka, Okla., reported highs of 105; Grand Island, Neb., 103; Lincoln, 102, and Omaha, 100, and readings from 95 to 100 were uncomfortably common all the way from the Great Lakes down into Texas. St. Louis had 98.

In Iowa, Des Moines had a high of 95 and Burlington of 90. The heat wave was general through the central states, extending from the Great Lakes through Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas into Colorado, Oklahoma, North Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

The weather bureau said the heat wave was moving eastward and that the Atlantic seaboard, plenty hot right now, would get the full force of the soaring temperatures within a few days, while in the central and southwestern states they will be moderating.

The thermal belt of Polk county, North Carolina, is so acutely located that grapes on one farm will prosper; on the next a few hundred yards away, they will fail.

Rangoon, Burma, has a population of 400,000.

PLANE MAKING RESUMED AFTER FOUR DAY STRIKE

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 11—Settlement of the four-day-old wild-cat strike of some 20,000 workers in four plants of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation was announced today.

The workers voted at 11:15 p. m. last night to return to work after Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the United Automobile Workers, (CIO) had pleaded with them for two hours.

Full production was expected to be resumed today.

The striking workers were reluctant to accept an agreement negotiated between the union and the company to settle the controversy which developed over transferring 74 men from one department to another at a lower wage scale.

However, Frankenstein warned the strikers that their walkout had not been sanctioned by the union and added that if it was continued it would "mean the Army against labor." At the same time Frankenstein criticized the War Labor Board.

The work stoppage threatened production of Cyclone engines used to power the B-29 Superfortresses.

U. S. MAY STOP BUYING MEAT OF ARGENTINA

posed, it was clear that meats from the United States must be supplied to make up the deficit in Britain. This would cost American consumers 15 percent of their present meat supplies.

The pros and cons of this same problem were examined by the War Food Administration last April, at the request of the State department but the project was rejected.

It has now been revived for use in case diplomatic action alone should fail to bring about a change in the Argentine regime.

mined since hundreds of Japs lie in mass burial grounds discovered by the Americans in their swift advance over the length and breadth of Guam's 227 square miles.

Casualty totals for all three of the conquered Marianas islands show that seven Japs have died for every American killed or missing.

While Jap garrisons are known to be present on Pagan and Rota islands in the Marianas, the Jap chain of defenses in the Central Pacific can be considered hopelessly breached for all practical purposes from the American standpoint. Remaining Jap bases are in the same position as isolated enemy outposts in the Marsh-islands which have been completely neutralized by sustained American aerial raids.

Pacific fleet headquarters announced that continued American aerial onslaughts against Japanese bases were carried out throughout the entire Central Pacific.

Seventh AAF Liberators unloaded 60 tons of bombs on Truk which lies only 650 miles southeast of Guam, in a daylight raid August 8. An estimated 10 Jap planes attempted to intercept the bomber formation but were driven off and one Jap was shot down and two damaged. Two Liberators were damaged and returning pilots reported only meager anti-aircraft fire.

On the same day a lone Navy Ventura search plane pounded Guianan on Nauru island. All planes returned safely from these raids.

Circleville Soldiers Celebrate Unexpected Reunion In England

Story of the reunion of two Pickaway county boys in historic Nottingham, England, during which "we sure made the townsfolk know that we were from Circleville" is related in a letter received by Mrs. Edna Moon, West Main street, from her son, Staff. Sgt. Charles E. "Ted" Moon.

Sgt. Moon, who is attached to the Eighth Army air force, relates that during a 48-hour leave he met and visited with Orin Dresbach Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Dresbach, Sr., of Pickaway township, who is a paratrooper.

He says: "After many inquiries every time I met a paratrooper I finally had him pinpointed on the map and spent my entire 48 hours looking for Junior. I spent my 48 hour leave in the historical city of Nottingham and after one day of searching I found him there the second day of my pass. He was in perfect condition and sure looked swell. Boy! was I ever glad to see him, we really had a swell time talking over old times. I still feel the effects of our celebration. We sure made the townsfolk of Nottingham know that we were from Circleville and sure painted various parts of the town red."

Sgt. Moon has completed approximately half of his missions, he informed his mother, and said his group had been awarded the air service medal and oak leaf cluster.

His address is Staff Sgt. Charles E. Moon, ASN 35630944, 303rd Bomb Group (H), 358th Bomb Squadron (H), APO 557, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

ROTARY HEARS COPELAND TALK ON FSA WORK

Work of the Farm Security Administration was outlined at the meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday in Pickaway Arms by Cornell Copeland, Pickaway county FSA administrator.

He said the paramount aim of the FSA is to give low income people a break on the farm and to help increase food production. Farmers who receive FSA aid have increased their crops from 18 to 35 percent, he said.

FSA makes loans to farmers to help run farms and also to those wishing to buy farms. Some families can get more than 100 percent loans with $12,000 the limit of a loan.

Three Pickaway county men act as an advisory board to the administrator. These are Russell Palm, John Dowler and Loring Leist. They help to pass on the eligibility of farmers asking FSA help.

AUTOPSY BRINGS MURDER CHARGE

FIRST DEGREE murder charges were placed against Ernest Parsons, 23, shown at the right above, confessed slayer of his fiancée, Luella M. Parfitt, 19, left, after an autopsy disclosed that she had been criminally attacked before she was choked to death on a lonely road in Oakland county near Pontiac, Mich. The youth said the slaying occurred in a fit of rage because she tried to break off their relationship, and that he suffered from a mental blackout caused by a brain injury received before his Army discharge. THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."

"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."

"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."

The Health of Dairy Cattle is the keystone of a safe milk supply. The fitness of cattle to produce a safe and high quality milk is determined by their freedom from disease.

To Produce High Quality Milk, cows must be housed and milked in a clean barn with plenty of light, ventilation and drainage.

Plenty of Light promotes the health of the cows and keeps down bacteria.

Ventilation promotes the health of the cow and is important in relation to milk flavor. Milk too readily takes on undesirable flavors caused by bad odors.

Drainage—Nothing can more quickly lower the quality of the milk than stagnant pools of waste standing in the barn.

Consult your dairy field man about your Milk Quality and Production Problems

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Summer flowers in lovely arrangements made the large porch of the Pickaway Country club a colorful setting for the bridge luncheon held Thursday for women members and out-of-town guests. Forty-eight were served at noon at tables arranged in the form of an L in addition to the smaller ones. Large zinnias in crystal vases and roses and delphinium in low bowls were used on the large tables and the small ones were centered with bowls of yellow gladioli.

The Priest in the Life of Israel

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 13 is I Samuel 1-4:18, the Golden Text being Hebrews 5:1. "For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God.")

THE CITY of Shiloh was northeast of Jerusalem. About five miles from Jerusalem was the village of Ramathaim-zophim, where lived a man named Elkanah. This man had two wives, Hannah who had no children but whom Elkanah dearly loved; and Peninnah, who had several children.

Hannah grieved because she had no little ones, and Peninnah evidently twitted her with this sad fact, making her still more unhappy. At last Hannah went to Shiloh to the house of the Lord and prayed, pleading with the Lord to send her a son. If He would do this she would lend him to the Lord for all his days, she promised. Now in her anguish Hannah prayed with her lips moving but no sound coming forth. Eli, the priest and judge of the Israelites, was watching her from his high seat, and he decided that she was drunk—talking to herself.

He chided her and she explained what her purpose was in praying so fervently. Then Eli blessed her and she and her husband went home. She did have a son and named him Samuel, and she sang a beautiful song of thanksgiving to the Lord, which reminds us of the Magnificat of Mary when she was told of the coming of Jesus.

Taken to Temple

When he was old enough to leave his mother Hannah took him to Eli and "lent him to the Lord," as she had promised. He lived in the temple, waiting upon Eli.

Now Eli had two sons who were priests of the temple. They were wicked men who would snatch sacrificial meat from the altar before the offering was burnt, and led lustful lives. Their names were Hophni and Phinehas. A man came from the Lord to Eli and reminded him that the Lord had promised Aaron that his house "should walk before Me forever," but since Eli had not restrained his sons from such wickedness the Lord had changed His mind. The Israelites should be conquered by an enemy, and Eli's two sons should die on the same day, and his whole house wiped out. Meanwhile Samuel grew in favor with God and man. Eli seems to have loved him dearly. One night when Samuel was asleep, he heard someone calling him. Thinking it was Eli, he ran to him, but Eli said he had not called. The call came three times, and each time Samuel went to Eli only to be told that Eli had not called him. The last time Eli told him it was the Lord calling him, and he should say, "Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth."

Again the call came and Samuel answered as Eli had said, and the Lord told him the same things Eli had been told. Next morning Eli asked him what the Lord had said, and Samuel told him all. Eli replied, "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good."

When the word the Lord had said to Samuel was told to the people of Israel they went to battle against the Philistines, and in the battle they were beaten. They then took the Ark of the Covenant with them into battle, and the Philistines were frightened, but their leaders said, "Be strong, and quit yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight."

Israelites Are Slaughtered

So the Philistines fought and the Israelites were smitten and they fled and there was "a very great slaughter, for there fell of Israel 30,000 footmen." The Ark of God was taken, and Eli's two sons were slain.

A man ran from the army and came to Shiloh, and he found Eli sitting by the wayside, watching: "for his heart trembled for the ark of God." The man told him what had happened, that his two sons were dead and the Israelites slaughtered, finally, that the ark of God was taken.

Eli was 98 years old now and blind. He heard of the death of his sons with comparative calm, but when he knew that the ark was taken—that sacred ark which it was his business to protect and care for—the poor old man fell from his seat backward by the side of the gate of the city and broke his neck; "for he was an old man, and heavy. And he had judged Israel forty years."

Thus, through this good man's failure to discipline his sons, when they were young, and make good men of them, came about their deaths and his own, and woe upon the Israelites.

of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mowery, after spending a two-week vacation with her brother, T/Sgt. Charles P. Mowery, and Mrs. Mowery at Southern Pines, N. C.

THE SULKIES ARE ROLLING--BUT FAST!-- AT CHICAGO

CHICAGOANS who are plenty accustomed to running horse races get a peak at the pacers and trotters as harness racing returns to the Windy City for a meet at the Cook county fairgrounds near Maywood, Ill. In this race, from left to right, are The Pest (O. B. Henson, driver), Captain Meridale (J. F. Mansfield), Reddy Mack (M. H. Page) and Donnie Harvester (F. Slater). (International)

HENS, COLONELS STILL BATTLING; BIRDS LOSE TWO

By International News Service
The Toledo-Louisville struggle for second place continued today to highlight the American Association pennant race.

As a result of Thursday's hostilities, the two clubs both were nine and a half games behind the leading Milwaukee Brewers. The Mud Hens of Toledo, however, held a one percentage point lead over the on-and-off Colonels.

The Mud Hens divided their doubleheader with Minneapolis yesterday, losing the nightcap 5-2 after winning the opener 7-5. The split, coupled with a 9-3 Louisville win over lowly Kansas City, enabled the Colonels to wipe out the Hens' half-game lead.

Louisville uncorked a terrific batting attack to turn back the Blues. Nick Polly opened the slugfest with a three-run first inning homer. He plated another run in the third frame with a single. But Polly's performance at the plate was shaded by Milt Shoffner, who hit safely four out of five times at bat.

The Milwaukee Brewers piled up seven runs in the first two innings and then coasted to a 10-2 triumph at the expense of seventh-place Indianapolis.

Columbus' eight-game series with St. Paul thundered to a finish with the Saints taking both ends of a double bill, 4-2 and 2-0. The double victory enabled the Saints to gain an even break with the Birds. The defeats left Columbus in the first division, but the fifth-place Saints now trail the Birds by only one game.

SPOKANE TO BE SCENE OF 1944 PGA TOURNEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—The national professional golf championship will be played at Spokane, Wash., beginning Monday and with that the ancient and sometimes honorable national pastime of Scotland—and the U. S. A.—will be back among our current major events after a year's lapse.

Golf was blasted right out of the sporting picture when those bombs fell on Pearl Harbor, and the national open and amateur will remain out for the duration. The professionals have decided that the situation is such now that they can carry on again with the talent on hand.

Among the missing from the Spokane festivities will be defending champion Sam Snead, who is laid up in a naval hospital with a bad back. Those present, according to a communique from Tournament Manager Fred Corcoran will include Jug McSpaden, who has been burning up the Summer circuit; Byron Nelson, a former P. G. A. as well as open and masters champion, Sam Byrd, who gets hot occasionally, Toney Pennington, Olin Dutra, Ed Dudley, Harry Cooper and 80 or so others.

MUM'S THE WORD

PORTLAND, Ore.—"Topper," recently discharged from the K-9 corps, knows many military secrets, but don't worry he won't tell. Since the Belgian shepherd came home to his owner, W. R. Gibson of Portland, he hasn't divulged one piece of vital information that might be useful to Nazi agents. In fact, Topper hasn't said anything at all.

BILL M'KECHNIE SIGNS CONTRACT

Wily Deacon To Be Red Boss For At Least Two More Seasons

CINCINNATI, Aug. 11—Wily Bill McKechnie, long regarded as one of the foremost major league baseball managers of the day, today held the key to the Cincinnati Reds postwar plans—a two-year contract renewal as skipper of the Reds.

In announcing the signing of the new contract, Powell Crosley, Jr., president of the Reds, said, "We have signed for one reason only—because we think he is the best manager in the country."

Crosley said that the club looks forward to greatly renewed interest in baseball after the war. He said a large sum of money has been earmarked for the purchase of talented player material after the war.

"I know of no manager to whom we would rather entrust this investment in talent than Bill McKechnie," Crosley added.

General Manager Warren C. Giles, commenting on the new contract, said McKechnie's six-year record of one world's championship, two National League pennants, one second, one third and two fourth place finishes firmly established him as a winning manager.

Crosley's announcement put a sudden end to rumors current last month that McKechnie was on his way out because of the front office's asserted dissatisfaction with his conservative tactics as manager of the Reds.

McKechnie had little or no comment on the new contract, terms of which were not disclosed. However, the little, bespectacled Scotsman said he would retire from organized baseball at the end of the 1946 season. He has been manager of the Reds since 1938.

26 TEAMS BEGIN PLAY IN SEMI-PRO TOURNAY

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 11—The 1944 tourney of the National Baseball Congress starts at Wichita tonight with Lowry field of Denver, Colorado semi-pro champions, facing Enid, Oklahoma's Army air field club.

Twenty-six of the nation's top semi-pro outfits, predominated by service clubs, will battle it out for the title, won last year by Camp Wheeler, Ga., now disbanded.

The advance ticket sale indicated a crowd of 12,000 for tonight's opener at Lawrence Field. Gov. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas was scheduled to toss the opening ball, with George Sisler, national semi-pro baseball commissioner, catching.

At least a dozen major league scouts in quest of talent were reported on hand for the meet, played under a two-game elimination system.

BUCKY WALTERS AGAIN STOPPED; BRAVES WIN 2-0

CINCINNATI, Aug. 11—Everybody in the Queen City today had an explanation for Bucky Walters' sudden inability to win ball games.

Bucky, mainstay of the Cincinnati Reds mound staff and one of the National League's leading hurlers, opened the season with a 15-game winning streak with only three losses charged to him up to mid-season. Then he hit the skids, so to speak. He was unable to chalk up No. 16 in the win column. He started five games before he finally managed to shake off the jinx.

Yesterday Manager Bill McKechnie sent Bucky to the mound in quest of No. 17, but instead of extending his victory streak he wound up with his sixth defeat in a row.

The Boston Braves, and particularly a couple of Cincinnati cast-offs, were Bucky's nemesis. The Braves beat the Reds, 2-0, with Charlie "Red" Barrett turning in a brilliant two-hit pitching trick. Red formerly was with Cincinnati, but he failed to make the grade. A second Red used-to-be, Damon Phillips, playing as a utility fielder, socked a single to score one of the Boston club's runs.

DOGS AT WAR HONORED

The dogs of war, the K-9 Command of the Quartermaster Corps, provides the stirring story for "The Army Service Forces Presents," in its broadcast on Saturday. War Department files provide the story for this dramatization of the work of these highly trained, courageous dogs. Sgt. Arthur Laurens is the author, Jerry Devine the producer and Major Harry Salter the music director of this series.

DAGWOOD BURNS UP

Dagwood burns up while "Blondie Cools Off" at the beach, in "Blondie's" first broadcast in her new Sunday series. Chief cause of Dagwood's excitement is a handsome lifeguard who persists in rescuing Blondie, time after time, even though she is in no danger of drowning. There is a hilarious mix-up involving lunch baskets, too. Penny Singleton is heard as Blondie, with Arthur Lake as the befuddled Dagwood.

WELLES GRACIE'S GUEST

Orson Welles, wizard of the entertainment world, will be the guest star with Gracie Fields on her Summer airshow Sunday. The "amazing Mr. Welles" will undoubtedly introduce Gracie to his store of magic tricks, a favorite hobby of the actor and producer. Welles has done much to popularize the hobby of amateur magic and will probably win a new devotee when he appears with his comedienne host. Recently his magicians acts are favorite entertainment with servicemen throughout the country.

RESNIK, BAKER FEATURED

Regina Resnik, dramatic soprano, and John Baker, baritone, both of the Metropolitan Opera Company, return as featured soloists on "World of Song," the series featuring Met artists with the orchestra conducted by Wilfrid Pelletier on Sunday. Miss Resnik, a winner in the "Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air" this year, has just returned after completing the Mexico City opera season. Baker, a 1943 "Auditions" winner, has been featured on several leading network broadcasts this season.

RADIO NEWS NOTES

Gayne Whitman, announcer for John Charles Thomas' Sunday starring program, who also does the narrative for many training films, is chuckling over a letter he just received from a former announcer pal now in the Armed Services. "I thought I left you in Hollywood," says the letter, "but in spite of that I have to listen to your voice several hours a day here in training school—and frankly, I never thought you were smart enough to teach logistics."

William Bendix, who plays "Riley" in the Sunday comedy program, "The Life of Riley," returns to the airshow Sunday after a two-week leave of absence during which time he vacationed briefly in New York.

Dinah Shore, who along with Bing Crosby and Jimmy Durante was named by General Ike Eisenhower as the type of star the boys overseas want to see and hear, landed in England the other day on the first leg of her journey to fulfill the General's request. She'll be overseas two months.

Dr. Frank Black continues to baton the Symphony Orchestra on Sundays until October 22. Arturo Toscanini succeeds him Sunday, October 29, when he stars an eight-week Beethoven festival.

Screen Star Brian Donlevy was signed this week to appear in "The Black Path of Fear," a super mystery drama by Cornell Woolrich, which will be broadcast on the "Suspense" airshow of August 31.

It's back to work for Announcer Carl Frank. During the month of July, he "vacationed," giving up all his shows except "The Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street."

Victor Jory, of the air's "Dangerously Yours," welcomed Miriam Hopkins to New York this week. Miriam and Vic will co-star on Broadway this Fall in Samuel Raphaelson's newest comedy, "The Perfect Wife."

Sinking creek, in Breckenridge county, Kentucky, suddenly disappears and traverses an underground course for several miles, suddenly reappearing as a great spring flowing from under a hill.

Benefit Ball Game Nets More Than $1,000 for Shelter House

BIG CROWD SEES KAHN GIRLS IN 1 TO 0 VICTORY

Assembly Of 2,500 Divides In Boosting Winners And Losing Aggregation

Citizens of Circleville and vicinity Friday had contributed more than $1,000 toward building a shelter house in Ted Lewis park and an overflow crowd had seen one of the best softball games ever played here.

The park was jammed with automobiles, bicycles and pedestrians Thursday evening when the Kahn girls' teams of Columbus took the field. Cheers for both teams arose as they battled to a 1-0 victory for the Kahn club.

The crowd was estimated at from 2,500 to 3,000. There were almost as many people present as at the dedication of the park this Spring and some city officials thought there were more cars parked around the field than during the visit here of Ted Lewis.

W. G. Hamilton, chairman of the ticket committee, announced Friday morning the goal of $1,000 had been reached and said he expected the final tabulation to show more than that amount. He said that two or three solicitors had not yet made their reports and one or two promised donations were expected Friday. These amounts are expected to swell the total to well over the goal.

Welker Wins Bond

George C. Welker, 904 South Court street, was awarded the $25 war bond offered by the ticket committee. Announcement of the award was made at the start of the fifth inning of the ball game.

Mr. Hamilton and members of the park commission expressed appreciation for the "splendid response of the public."

Taking advantage of the only chance given them by Ethylene "Gussie" Feyh, probably the leading Columbus girl pitcher, the Kahn outfit scored the only run of the game in the first inning and successfully stood off Harper Thatcher attempts to knot the count.

Crafts, first batter of the game, coaxed a walk. Willoughby promptly bunted her to second. She held on while Wagner popped to third, then dashed home when Ryan lifted a fly which fell safely back of third just out of the reach of four Harper-Thatcher fielders.

Lose Score Chance

The only other Kahn chance to score came in the fourth when, with two out, Stiles, peppy little catcher, laid down a bunt and beat it out. She went to third when Dwyer threw into the right field crowd Branch's roller down the third base line. Ethel Merrick popped to first to end the rally.

Feyh gave up only four hits, two of them bunts by Stiles while the Harper-Thatcher girls blasted out five hits off Norma Buckenberger.

Greene, husky catcher, did the slugging for Harper-Thatcher. She hit the first ball pitched in the second inning into left field for a double but was forced to stand there and watch the next three batters make outs.

The losers' biggest chance came in the sixth. Anderson, batting for Cordell, singled, Dwyer and Dwyer popped up but Tommie coaxed a walk from Buckenberger. Harmon singled to fill the bases but Butz ended the rally by flying to second.

Both teams turned in fielding plays which brought applause from the crowd. "Hoppy" Harmon, short fielder for Harper-Thatcher, got a big hand in the sixth when she raced into foul territory in right field to take Crafts' fly. Butz at

PAUL WALLACE FINDS REMINDER OF CINCINNATI

"This world gets smaller every day, doesn't it?" Lt. Paul W. Wallace asks in a letter to his father, W. E. Wallace, 127 West Main street, in which he tells of running into a reminder of Cincinnati.

Lt. Wallace, stationed in Europe, stated in his letter: "I noticed some new rations at the kitchen truck today, and among them were two cases of corn from the Esmeralda Canning company, Cincinnati, Ohio. Even a small thing like that brings a certain amount of warmth to one."

He says there isn't much interest in the presidential election over there for "there is a much more important job here. We realize that if this job isn't done right they won't need a president back home."

Too bad the people back home don't realize same."

"Things are moving along fine. We are making your headlines. Read them and you'll know what I am doing," Lt. Wallace says in another letter in which he sent home some souvenirs. He enclosed a flag from a Mark VI tank, a metal spread eagle from a German officer's cap and a cloth eagle from an enlisted man's blouse.
